Dedication . . .

*We dedicate this the second volume of the Annals, to our parents and guardians who have made our education here at A. and T. possible. With the passage of time, it is ours to prove the merit of their work and to uphold the ideals of the school.*

Foreword

As the world moves on its social, cultural and scientific feats to a greater civilization, so A. and T. does her part in the development of healthy minds and bodies and strong characters, which will, in the future, be a vital instrument of this greater civilization. The class of 1946 publishes this second volume of the Ayantee to show how A. and T. has grown and depict the activities of a year that will forever linger in our memories. It is our sincere hope that this volume will serve as a pleasant reminder of the the days in "Aggieland".

CLASS HISTORY...

REMEMBER WHEN

The halls and classrooms of A. and T. College were never more alive than on September 15, 1912, when the members of the class of '16 enrolled beginning four of the most eventful years in the history of the school. This record breaking class was organized under the leadership of Kola K. Newsome, president, Harry Ezell, vice president, Catherine Richardson, secretary and Clyde Brown, treasurer.

Eager to integrate ourselves in to the Aggie family, we sat out to become a part of many of the extra-curricula activities of the school. Bill Saunders, Walter Lewis, and Gerome Hatfield became football heroes, Louise Nixon and Herman Standback made the varsity debating team, an honor seldom won by freshmen. The Olds brothers, Isaac and Ernest, became quite popular as the kings of swing. Daniel Ray, Eva Foster, Louis Dawson, James Hill, and William Skelton also represented our class in the band. Katrina Grandy, James Saddler, Danie Raye, Louise Nixon, Perome Bray, Eva Foster and Lonnie Burton became members of the dramatic club. As cheer leaders, James Saddler and Emmeice Smith helped to cheer the Aggies to victory during the football season.

The honor rolls showed that the class of '16 was not only active in extra-curricular activities but in their curricular activities as well. Having made an average of 2.3 the following freshmen were initiated into the sophist Society Louise Plummer, Bessie Derr, Josie Edwards, Louise Nixon, James Hill, Robert Holt, Gwendolyn Rogers and Catherine Richardson.

Our officers during our sophomore year were Travis Banks, president, Melvin Hardy, vice president, Louise Plummer secretary, Corrie Powell, assistant secretary.

This year Robert Holt joined the varsity debating team making three sophomores on the team. Gee, what a class? Josie Edwards and James Saddler played leading roles in the dramatic hit "Little Foxes."

Weren't we proud when Robert Holt, James Hill, Wendell Jones, Bessie Derr, Louise Plummer, Geraldine Powell, Louise Nixon, Josie Edwards and Gwendolyn Rogers were initiated into the Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society, the highest single achievement that a student can make. Also many of the class affiliated with the many other Greek letter societies.

Nineteen hundred forty-five found us juniors. Yes, dignified juniors. This year we elected as our class officers Herman Standback, president, Melvin Harv, vice president, Bessie Derr, secretary, and William Skelton, treasurer.

Honors during the year went to Eva Blufford who was crowned "Miss Coed." During the spring elections Katrina Grandy won the title of "Miss A. and T." and James Hill was elected president of the Student Council.

Our senior year, the year for which we have been waiting is here. One hundred and nine in number we are closing the book on four eventful years. Our officers are Sherman Williamson, president, Jessye Mims, vice president, Nancy Griffin, secretary and Louise Nixon, treasurer. This year four seniors are receiving scholarships for having maintained an "A" average during their junior year. They are Nancy Griffin, Lucinda Dean, Jessye Mims and Louise Nixon.

It is sad to think that we must part with these experiences, like none we shall have elsewhere, but the fact that we may take them memory with us through the rest of our lives somewhat compensates for their loss. Rich in Christian influences and the gay fellowship of our college days, we go forward with heads held high and smiles that hide our tears.

—LOUISE NIXON, Historian.

CLASS WILL...

NORTH CAROLINA
GUILFORD COUNTY

A. and T. College, City of Greensboro,
June 3, 1916

We, the class of '16, having reflected on our past deeds at A. and T. and having looked into possible future conditions at our Alma Mater, do hereby bequeath to certain parties our most valuable possessions, hoping that as time marches on, said possessions will be of some service to those we have left behind.

Lois Clay wills her ability as an amateur dress designer, and her sewing ability to Mary Drumwright.

Eva Bluford wills her plaid skirt to Clareece Peters.

Eva Foster wills her dramatic ability to Ann Foxworth.

To next year's Miss A. and T., Louise Nixon leaves her scholastic ability, Eva Foster leaves her versatility, and Ruth McDaniel her charm.

To next year's Student Council: James Hill leaves his executive ability.

To the line w a t c h e r s, the graduating seniors leave their privileges with the hope that they will be used well, but not worn out.

Jessye Mims wills her position on the Register Staff to Ellis Harris.

Ann Barber wills her chatterbox popularity to Mary Landis.

Corine Powell wills five hundred dollars for escalators for Noble and Dudley buildings.

Sara Norcum wills her athletic ability to Mary L. Steele and her pleasant smiles to Gertrude Marsh.

Maude Brady wills her size to Harrie Ledbetter.

Laura Bullard wills her ability to read and write shorthand to Virginia Martin.

Eunice Powell wills her ability to talk fast to LaPearl Jones.

Elizabeth Howard leaves her ability to get along with people to Virginia Martin.

Lois Hamilton wills her chapel seat in vespers to Bertha Hoine.

James Gilliam wills his size to Elihue Borden, and his pleasant stay to Jaiher Coway.

Kennina Grandy leaves her sincere wishes and hope for success to the Miss A. and T. of '16-17.

Sallie Coleman wills her ability to play it cool to Evelyn Kemp.

Ruth McDaniel wills her dignity to Essie Reynolds.

Loretta Turner wills her ability to use the electric sewing machine to Bennie Jamison.

Alene Brannon wills her ability of wearing her hair in place to Ella Gamble.

Ann Jacobs wills her dignity and poise to Evelyn Kemp.

Willie Herring wills her pigeon toes to Essie Reynolds.

Mary Pope wills her legs to Olga Warren.

Nancy Guilfin wills her size and scholastic ability to Margaret Schoffer.

Jacqueline Lyles bequests her ability to dance to Lucy Boone.

Winnie Dixon leaves her quietness and ability to keep cool around the male sex to Barbara Bell.

Lottie Skelton wills her ability to sew to Ann Fouthworth.

As executor of this our last will and testament we name our trusted successors, the Juniors, to carry out in full each and every clause herein contained.

In witness whereof, we, the Class of 1916, do hereunto set our hands and seals, this third day of June, in the year of Our Lord, 1916

Class of '16.

PROPHECY OF THE CLASS OF 1946

Wishing to know all the possibilities and probabilities of the future experience in store for the members of our class, it has been given unto me as the prophetess of this great and good people, the class of 1946, to dream strange dreams and to see strange visions of the glories of the years yet to be.

As I look into the land of the future, I can discern moving among the dim shadows of the peoples yet to be, the familiar shapes of those fair and radiant beings who were once my classmates, now changed and transformed into citizens of the world outside, even as they had long hoped to be.

The veil before my eyes grows more and more thin through the intensity of my vision, and behold it is the year 1956. I am in the nations glory, New York City, making a tour of that grand and glorious place. Lo, who should I behold n'er me, none but our beloved president, Sherman Williamson. I had heard of his accomplishments as an artist and he informed me that on the following evening he was giving a piano recital in the City Hall. Being very glad to meet someone whom I knew, I accepted the invitation to hear him. We ventured further and as I inquired about some of the other members of our class, he told me that many of them were living in that city. He took me into apalarial drug store, equipped with all the necessities one might want, and on query I found out that the proprietors were Olds and Olds, Inc. After leaving these two friends we traveled more about the city and we approached the "Savoy." We noticed that one of the main attractions for the week was a famous star of stage and radio, Miss Eva Foster.

Walking further down the street who do you suppose we ran into? Our old classmate, Anna Jacobs, who was the first colored woman to become a Powers Model. Anna was attractively attired and she told me that Jacqueline Lyles, who was quite a reputable dress designer in New York, had created the ensemble especially for her. Working on her stall were such well-known designers as Ellen Davis, Lois Clay, Lottie Skelton, and Mary Francis Simmons. Sherman and I spent quite a pleasant evening together, but it was getting late and I had to be on my way. We parted and I walked on toward my hotel.

On stopping at the desk to inquire if there had been any calls, believe it or not, Wilmer Pinnix, the night clerk, informed me there had been no calls but some of our old classmates had registered as guests that very evening. Being very glad to see Mr. Pinnix, I stood at the desk and chatted with him for quite some time. From our conversation I learned that there was a National Medical Coinvention being held in that city and quite a few of our classmates were attending. Dr. Melvin Hardy, who is a promising physician in Raleigh, N. C.; Dr. Eva Blulord Lane a surgeon at Walter Reed Hospital, Dr. Daniel Raye and Winnie Dixon who operates a clinic in Daytona Beach, Florida and Dr. Nathaniel Harris noted psychiatrist whose unusual ability had broken down racial prejudice in Savannah, Ga. and had a large number of white and Negro clients.

After attending Sherman Williamson's concert, I caught the midnight train from New York heading South. When I went into the dining car, there was seated opposite me a well dressed young gentleman, who introduced himself to me as William Lawson field secretary for the N. A. A. C. P. You can imagine my embarment when I realized he was an old classmate of mine. He informed me that he had visited several colleges in his tour. During this time he had come across several of our classmates. Louise Nixon had received a Ph.D degree in mathematics and was head of the Mathematics Department of Atlanta University. Charles Brabble was president of Livingston College and Maude Brady was a professor of home economics in the same institution. Mary Louise Plummer was an English instructor at North Carolina State College and Bessie Deir was head of the business department. Elnora Faucett was secretary to the registrar at T. and T. College, and Lois Hamilton was head of the Nursery School at her alma Mater. While in Greensboro he met Sara Norcum, who was recreation director at Windsor Community Center. Robert Hold had finally realized the futility of trying to teach English and was now head of the music department at Howard University. Lawson and I were so engrossed in our conversation that we were both surprised when the conductor came through and called the next stop, which was Philadelphia, my destination. So Lawson and I bid each other good-bye.

In Philadelphia, I ran across Jessye Mims, who was associate editor of the Philadelphia Tribune, a widely known newspaper. She was able to give me a lot of information about some of our friends because many of them had been written up in her newspaper. Among those who had made outstanding progress was James Hill, who was the progressive president of North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company. Ruth McDaniel was the private secretary of this important business executive. He had as stenographers in his establishment Catherine Derr, Lucinda Dean, and Laura J. Bullard. The head accountants were Sadie Brooks and Nancy Griffin.

Jessye also told me that Rosa Free was lyric soprano and was at that time on a tour of the South. Rosa Keyes had become a model for Vogue Magazine. Marion Taylor was a successful architectural engineer and was at that time drawing plans for the palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guthbertson. There had also appeared an article which stated that among those who were attending the annual Homemaking Institute at Bennett College recently were such successful home demonstration agents as Ketrina Smith, Beulah Griffin and Ada Alston. Two of the prominent dieticians present were Dainty McBrayer and Maggie Mills. Jessye was on her way to interview Annie Barber who was business executive with Enice Powers as her efficient partner. Oscar Hinnant was successfully carrying out his duties as president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car porters. Loretta Turner was head of the Alterations department at John Wannamakers Department Store. William Skelton was sound control operator with Columbia Broadcasting company. Jessye could not think of any others whose names had appeared in her paper recently. I was only in Philadelphia for a short-time, because I was on my way South. Upon my arrival in Atlanta, Ga., I was greeted by Elizabeth Howard and Claudia Headen who were doing social work in that city.

And behold a change was come over the spirit of my vision, and the veil was drawn over mine eyes shutting out from my vision the Thing To Be and I turned mine eyes Back to the Things That are, sure that as "coming events cast their shadows before," only goodness and truth and prosperity shall follow all the days that are to come to the fair and talented members of the class of 1946.

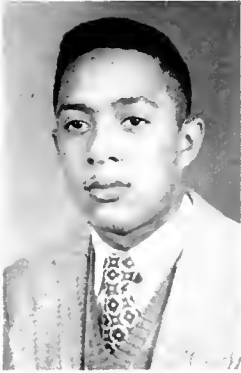

Class Prophetess,
SALLIE B. COLEMAN.

THE AYANTEE

The oldest record of The Ayantee goes back to 1939. We cannot say whether this was the first annual published at A. and L., but we are certain the issue of 1976 will not be the last.

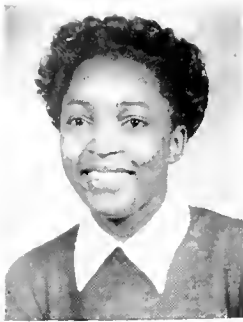

It has been a privilege and a pleasure to produce The Ayantee. We have tried to please you, and to give you a book among the pages of which you will find pleasure in the years to come.

We wish to take this opportunity of thanking all those whose interest and cooperation have made this publication possible. The efficiency of our editorial staff has been an inspiration to the whole staff. We owe our deepest gratitude to our art editor, Walter Lewis, for the excellent work that he has done for this annual.

Without the efforts of the business managers, the most tireless work of the editorial staff would have been in vain. Under efficient management, our advertising staff has done an admirable piece of work.

We hope that you will like this book as much as we have liked publishing it for you.

To send the dark imps of ignorance scurrying; to light the dark corners of human life with the bright rays from the blazing torch of knowledge; to kindle an answering flame in the hearts and minds of the ambitionless; to mark a clean path to the avenues of service in personal living; to do all this is, in effect, the purpose of the Honor Society, Alpha Kappa Mu.

Membership in Gamma Tau chapter of the Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society is open to all students who meet the following requirements:

1. Candidates must have completed 90 quarter hours with an average of not less than 2.3.
2. Candidates must never have been suspended for disciplinary problems.
3. The society encourages participation in at least one extra-curricular activity.

THE RICHARD B. HARRISON PLAYERS

The Richard B. Harrison Players is one of the most popular and vital organizations on the campus. The organization bears the name of the late Richard B. Harrison famous Negro actor of the twentieth century. Operating as an extra-curricular activity under the leadership of student officers, it offers practical training in the organization of the theatre. Membership in the organization is open to any student enrolled in the college during any quarter, upon passing an entrance test. Its members receive valuable training in the art of acting, in the designing and construction of scenery, in the directing of plays, in the art of theatrical make up, in stage lighting, in theatrical costuming and in publicity management. With its interpretation of both the classical and modern drama, it offers entertainment of distinction to both the student body and the citizens of Greensboro. Mrs. Pearl G. Bradley is the faculty director.

The officers are: Aris Covington, president; Ruby Frosler, vice-president; Evelyn Smith, secretary; Juanita Milton, corresponding secretary; Jeremiah Diggs, treasurer.

The A. and T. College Choral Society of Greensboro, North Carolina, has been featured on both NBC and CBS nation-wide radio networks as well as on local stations throughout North Carolina. During the absence of the famed "Wings Over Jordan" Choral Ensemble during the spring of 1915, the Choral Society was one of four college groups selected by the Columbia Broadcasting System to sing in its place each Sunday morning for an assigned length of time. The A. and T. College organization has travelled extensively for many years, presenting concerts in practically every state in the eastern section of the country.

The conductor of the Society, Coleridge A. Braithwaite, is an honor graduate of Harvard College, Cambridge, Massachusetts, and has completed formal requirements there for the doctorate degree. Before entering the United States Army, he was on the faculty of Fisk University, Nashville, Tennessee, and upon release in 1913 came to A. and T. College as Director of Choral Music.

THE COLLEGE BAND

The Band takes an active part in the life of the College. Each year it tours the state from east to west as well as some parts of Virginia and South Carolina. The conductor of this organization is Bernard Lee Mason who is also an outstanding violinist.

Engineers do the difficult immediately, the impossible may take a little time

The E. E. Club of A. and T. College was founded in November, 1936 by Prof. A. C. Bowling, a graduate of Bucknell University, M. S. from Ohio State.

The purpose of this organization is to assist the men who enter the Electrical Engineering field in solving the various problems that frequently occur.

With the leadership of our able and proficient adviser, Prof. A. C. Bowling whose picture is not shown the E. E. club has made unyielding progress.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

RELIGIOUS CLASS

Our courses in religious education do not try to compete with religious seminaries in teaching creed, doctrine and dogma. They are not designed for that purpose. We are interested more in preparing trained laymen who can go in the several churches with an understanding of intelligent church administration and some knowledge of how to maintain it.

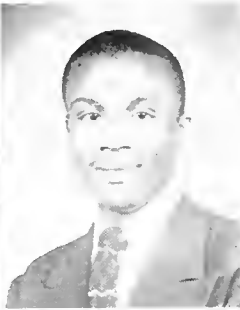

The majority of our people have church connections and attend the services. There are many aspects of church administration that are of a high order, but others are not well planned and are poorly carried out, largely because few, if any, of the members have taken time to learn methods of improvement. The amount of money invested in church property has grown to the point where, as a matter of sound business policy, it should be in the hands of persons competent to safeguard its use and integrity.

The Pan-Hellenic Council was organized in 1933. It governs the activities of all the Greek letter organizations on the campus. The membership consists of three representatives from each of the four national fraternities and from each of the three national sororities on our campus, a chairman and a faculty advisor. The council offers annually to the student maintaining the highest scholastic average for three consecutive quarters and who has participated in at least one major extra-curricula activity a $50 scholarship.

The establishment of the Alpha Phi Chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority marked the beginning of the chapter of a sorority on the campus of The Agricultural and Technical College. It had its beginning January 21, 1932 and has advanced rapidly since that time. From Alpha Phi has come many of the campus superlatives over the years including: Miss A and T., President of the Student Council, and many others. It gives an annual scholarship to the highest ranking freshman girl. The Sorority also contributes to many National Projects; as, The Non-Partisan Council on Public Affairs, The Mississippi Health Project and the N. A. A. C. P.

ALPHA MU CHAPTER OF DELTA SIGMA THETA SORORITY

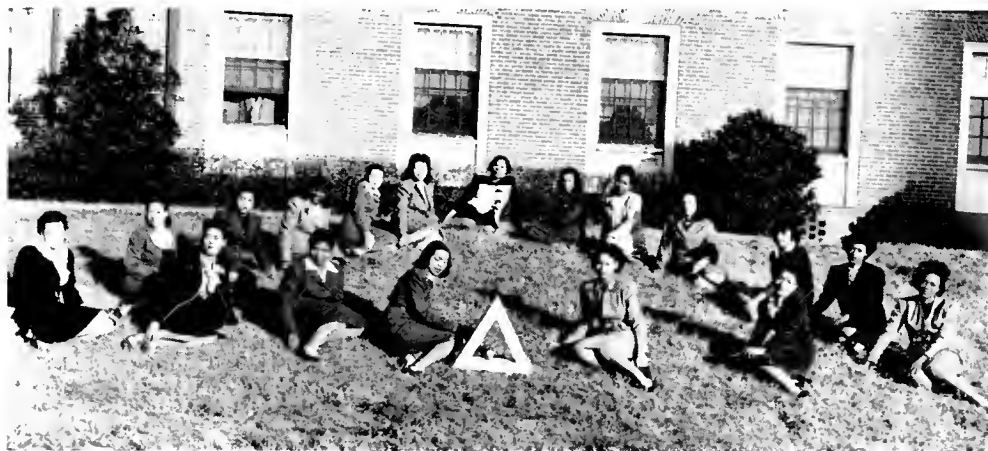

The Delta Sigma Theta Sorority was founded 1913 at Howard University as a result of the action of the active membership to reorganize a local Greek Letter society which antedated Delta by five years.

The founders of Delta Sigma Theta envisioned an organization which would reach out into all parts of the country and bring together college women of like ideals, potentialities and attainments for the mutual benefits which such fellowship affords and for promoting social and race betterment.

This organization conceives the faith in Negro people and stimulated by the highest ideals of womanhood, loyalty, scholarship and service in playing an important part in national life.

The officers of the Alpha Mu Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority are as follows: President, Soror Eva Bluford of Philadelphia, Pa.; Vice-President, Soror Mae Bradshaw of Mebane, N. C.; Corresponding Secretary, Mae A. McMillian of Fairmont, N. C.; Recording Secretary, Dorothy Draughn of Tarboro, N. C.; Treasurer, Thelma Marina of Stanley, N. C.; Reporter, Josie Copeland of Enfield, N. C.; Sergeant at Arms, Louise Nixon of Hertford, N. C.; Chaplain Loretta Turner of Sanford, N. C. Our Sponsors are Sorors Ellen Reeves and Katherine Epps.

THE PYRAMID CLUB

The purpose of the Pyramid Club is to attain high scholastic efficiency, to develop community service, and to grasp the ideals of Delta.

The officers are as follows:

of the

MU PSI CHAPTER OF THE
OMEGA PSI PHI FRATERNITY

The Lampodas Club is composed of those men who seek the mysteries of Omega and the Brotherhood that lies within the domain where only those imbued with certain fundamental prerequisites can ever hope to enter. The Lampodas Club through its challenge to the individual to seek that which many aspire but few attain is a contributing factor to the preparation of its members for future success in later life.

Dear A. and T.

Lyric by MRS S. B. DUDLEY

Music by CHARLES E. STEWART

Arranged by HARRY B. BAKER

*Dear A. and T., Dear A. and T.,
A monument indeed!
Around thy base with grateful hearts
Behold thy students kneel,
We bless the power that gave thee birth
To help us in our need,
We'll ever strive while here on earth
All loyalty to yield.*

CHORUS

*With joy, with joy, dear A. and T.,
Thy students turn from thee,
To spread thy trophies year by year
From Davo to Cherokee.*

*Dear A. and T., Dear A. and T.,
The signet thou shalt be,
Set by our great commonwealth
Proud booster of the free,
She'd have the record of her worth
On granite not inscribe,
Nay! let the children of her birth
Proclaim it by their lives.*

*Dear A. and T., Dear A. and T.,
Hence forth our Aim Shall be,
By precepts wise and deeds more sure
To bless the State through thee,
The arts of industry to wield
Against an idle foe,
A harvest rich from ripened fields
Of what they students sow.*
